CAREER GOALS

After school I will most likely be working as a financial analyst for Intel. My long-term goal is to work for a professional soccer team in the MLS in either finance or general management.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

Winning the California soccer showcase in the spring of my junior year with the club soccer team.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

Go to women's soccer and softball games.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My grandma. She was the most compassionate and kind-hearted person I have ever known.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

Finance 316 with Steve McKeon. Steve was immensely knowledgeable about and experienced in finance and the financial industry, which, coupled with his passion for teaching, made for an awesome class.

CAMPUS/COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

- Vice President of Professional Development, Warsaw Sports Business Club
- Vice President of Culture, Warsaw Sports Business Club
- Vice President of Digital Media, Warsaw Sports Business Club
- Design Director, Youth Movement

CAREER GOALS

In the long term I hope to combine my passions of sports marketing and graphic design in a strategic position for a professional sports team, ideally in the NFL. I hope to strengthen a team's brand and its fan base around a united cause of success on and off the field.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

My best experience at the UO so far has to be my two-week study abroad sports business program this past summer. We had access to many companies which students at other universities would not have been able to hear from including Nike Europe, Adidas World HQ, Lagardere Sports, Wieden + Kennedy Amsterdam, the German Olympic Committee and many more. In total, we travel to five cities in 14 days with plenty of free time to go out and explore local cultures and even do some hiking in the Bavarian Alps. I would highly recommend this program to anyone interested in sports business.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

Before I leave the UO I would like to attend a CrossFit class with Julia Smith.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My greatest role model has to be Russell Wilson, QB1 of the Seattle Seahawks. I am a little biased because I have been a Hawks fan my entire life, but through what I have observed following his career, the media and his own personal accounts, Russell is a man of extremely high character, positivity, charity and Christian faith. He and his wife Ciara go to the Seattle Children's Hospital every Tuesday, and he is constantly upbeat even after a loss. I hope to emulate him as I go through trials in my professional career.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

My favorite business class so far has been Marketing 311H. Our professor, Leah Schneider, was extremely energetic and passionate about marketing despite the 8:00 a.m. start time, and she brought out my passion for the subject through interesting lectures with real-world examples. Our final presentation was a competitive marketing presentation to the class, and going through that entire process brought my group very close together.

CAREER GOALS

Upon graduation, I plan on working at KPMG in Portland. I would love to eventually work in a financial role for a company like Lululemon Athletica or Nordstrom.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

It's so hard to pick just one! Through the UO I've been able to study abroad twice, play some intramural sports, and meet some amazing people.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

I honestly want to find and take photos in the Taylor's photo booth! I have never been able to find it.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

All my friends!

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

I loved Nicole Wilson's BA352 class. It was our first class as a cohort together and it really pushed me outside my public speaking comfort zone! Not to mention, Nicole Wilson is just the best ever.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

Meeting so many intelligent, unique, and hilarious people through classes and extracurricular activities. Intramural soccer in the spring of 2018 will always be a highlight of college.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

I want to go to at least one game for every UO sport this year.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My aunt. I've always looked up to her because she is so driven with her career, has an incredible work ethic, and is always looking to make other people happy.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

CAREER GOALS

I would like to receive a marketing position in the music industry when I graduate from college. Eventually I would like to join or even create a startup company. The end goal would be to become a musical artist while also owning my own businesses.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

My best experience at UO was meeting tons of people at the very beginning of Honors Business. The first fall term was so fun because we were involved in so many group projects and were meeting so many different people for the very first time.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

One thing I would like to do is see the campus complete with the new science campus and the new track field.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My greatest role model is Kanye West as he is not one to conform to the common thought patterns of society. Kanye does not change what he believes in simply to gain acceptance from other people. I love how he is very authentic and open with people. He sees the world in a positive light with love at the core.

Upon graduation in 2020, I hope to begin a marketing career in apparel and sportswear. I'd like to work on the creative side of advertising and promotions and be employed by a company that would support me in getting an MBA down the road.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

As a freshman, I had the opportunity to travel to San Francisco with the American Marketing Association where we visited several agencies and firms. Forming friendships with older members while exploring the city was an awesome first-year experience, and since then we've gotten to go to Portland, Seattle, and Los Angeles as well.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

I want to storm the field at Autzen.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

Two role models of mine are Marcus Harvey of Portland Gear and the legendary Phil Knight of Nike. Both Portland-based alumni have both built monumental brands in the apparel world and their entrepreneurial mindsets have been a huge inspiration for me as a student.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

BA 352 was my favorite class because I felt that the material was the most valuable toward real life, and because the group project was so difficult yet fun. Getting the chance to consult for a real company is something tangible that I wouldn't have experienced without Honors. The life skills that the course taught will always stick with me.

CAREER GOALS

My long-term goal is to secure a position as a business analyst in the field of either finance or wealth management. Ideally, this position would be located within the United States. My plan to academically achieve this goal is to strengthen my analytical skills by graduating with a degree in business administration with a concentration in operations and business analytics. In addition, I am planning to allocate an extra year to my studies which will enable me to double major with a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

Skills and relationships developed through the University of Oregon Investment Group.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

- Assistant Program Director, Business Honors Program

CAREER GOALS

I want to use my marketing degree to work for a company in an industry that I am passionate about. I would like to be on a motivated, driven team—similar to what I have experienced thus far in the Honors Program. Overall, I would like to have a fulfilling career that continues to challenge me while allowing me to grow and learn from role models in my field.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

My best experience at the University of Oregon would have to be joining the Honors Program and choosing to work at the UO Rec Center. These two campus groups have introduced me to some lifelong friends, helped me grow as a student and employee, and has made Eugene feel like home.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

Before leaving the University of Oregon I would like to go on as many new hikes and outdoor adventures as possible to see all Oregon has to offer.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My greatest role model is my dad because he has set a standard of work ethic that I aspire to maintain throughout my career. I see how many hours he puts in everyday and every week which has led him to where he is today in his career. He keeps me going and challenges me to be better every day which has led me to where I am today.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

My favorite business class has been our Marketing 311H class because it brought together my concentration of marketing along with a competition between teams to see who had the best idea. Being able to get creative and come up with a new product and market it was one of the most challenging, yet rewarding projects I have ever worked on.

CAREER GOALS

I would like to one day become a shareholder at Perkins and Company, where I am incredibly excited to begin working full time in January 2020.

BEST EXPERIENCE AT UO SO FAR

My best experience at UO would have to be BA 352 with Nicole Wilson. I got to work with some of the most amazing people and learned so much about how to actually conduct myself on a team. There truly never was a dull moment.

ONE THING YOU WANT TO DO BEFORE LEAVING UO

I have yet to need to pull an all-nighter, so my main goal is to maintain that streak through graduation.

GREATEST ROLE MODEL

My very first boss at Wilson pool, Sarah Wiggins. She demonstrated to me how to be a great leader that fostered an environment where employees wanted to show up to work, yet still was able to ensure that the pool operated perfectly.

FAVORITE BUSINESS COURSE

BA 352. Getting to work with my team on the Falling Sky project was one of the greatest learning experiences I could ever have and my team made it so incredibly fun.
