Degree in Progress: if you submitted a transcript while courses are in progress towards a degree and you are admitted to the program, you will need to submit a new and official transcript AFTER your degree is awarded and posted on your transcript.

Application Procedure & What to Expect

- An application is not considered complete until all of the admission materials have been received. Application files will not be forwarded for review unless complete.
- Once the missing items have been submitted and your application file has been processed, you will receive an email notification that your application file with the UO LCB PhD program is complete.
- Completed doctoral applications are held in the Graduate Programs Office through the January 5th deadline.
- After January 5th, the completed applications are sent to the faculty area coordinator for the major department. Once the file has been through faculty review, the faculty committee will decide whether to interview the applicant. In that case, the major department will contact the applicant directly in order to arrange for a phone interview or campus visit.
- The committee will review the files through mid-March. When decisions are made, offer notifications will be sent via the email address you provided on your application.

Detailed Application Instructions

We recommend that applicants begin the Lundquist College of Business PhD Departmental Application prior to submitting the UO Graduate Admissions Application. Doctoral applications completed after January 5th—including receipt of all supplemental materials—may be reviewed at the department committee’s discretion on a space-available basis. An application file completed late will very likely be at a disadvantage relative to files submitted by the deadline.

LUNDQUIST PHD DEPARTMENTAL APPLICATION

This online application provides additional information that is required to complete your application for the Lundquist College of Business PhD program, including the ability to upload specific documents.

UO GRADUATE ADMISSION APPLICATION

This application requires a separate login and password and is available at: gradweb.uoregon.edu/online_app/application/guidelines1.asp

Applicants must select ONE of the following majors:

Accounting, Finance, Management, Marketing or Operations and Business Analytics.

Your resume must be current and show company name, job title, job description and duties, dates of employment, and beginning and ending salary for all positions held. Please also include the following: honors and awards received, extracurricular, professional and community activities, leisure time activities, and language and computer proficiency.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Please submit a personal statement of approximately 1,000 words that (1) states your professional goals and areas of academic interest, (2) describes your academic, professional, and personal experiences that have prepared you for the PhD program, (3) gives your reasons for pursuing a PhD degree in your chosen field and (4) explains why you are applying to the University of Oregon.

WRITING SAMPLE

Please include a paper or article that you have written relevant to your chosen field. Examples of materials that might be submitted include a paper written for a course (within the last five years), a paper published in a professional journal (within the last three years), or a paper specifically prepared for the application.

ONLINE RECOMMENDATIONS

Three (3) online recommendations are required for admission. Ideally, your recommendations would come from persons able to provide information about your academic abilities and suitability for PhD-level study. Ideally, your second recommendation would come from a person who can provide information about your academic abilities. We recognize, however, that for people who have been away from college for some time, this may no longer be possible. Recommendations should be from people who have worked closely with you and are able to comment on your abilities, accomplishments and potential, but they should not come from family members, spiritual advisors, personal physicians or close friends.

GMAT OR GRE TEST

All applicants are required to take either the GMAT (Graduate Management Admissions Test) or GRE (Graduate Record Examination). Test results must be less than five (5) years old. In the case of multiple test scores, we consider the highest overall score.

If you submit unofficial scores and you are admitted to the program, you will need to submit official scores to the UO as soon as possible.

- Official GMAT score reports - use University of Oregon school code KSQ-5N-72
- Official GRE score reports - use University of Oregon code 4846 and Department Code 4201

Additional Requirements for INTERNATIONAL applicants only

INTERNATIONAL TRANSCRIPTS

To be admitted to the UO Graduate School for the purpose of seeking an advanced degree, you must have an accredited degree equivalent to a U.S. four-year bachelor's degree. Additionally, the credentials must be received from an institution recognized by the country's educational body that oversees institutional approval, such as the Ministry of Education. If you are concerned about your eligibility for admission, please contact the Lundquist Graduate Admissions Coordinator for credential analysis (lcbgrad2@uoregon.edu).

Please provide the full name of all institutions attended and the titles of all diplomas and degrees earned. Official transcripts with certified English translations of all college or university work are required. Official records are defined as original documents from the institution bearing the actual (not photocopied) signature of the Registrar and the seal of the institution. Records issued only once by the institution should be photocopied and certified as official copies either by school officials or legal authorities, such as embassies, consulates, or notaries public. Do not send the original of an academic record that cannot be replaced; obtain a properly certified copy instead.

Official degree certificates with certified English translations are also required if the degree and conferral date do not appear on the transcripts.

Official transcripts and degree certificates should be sent to:

Office of Registrar
5257 University of Oregon
Eugene, OR 97403-1217

If academic records and diplomas are not issued in English by the institution, both the official records in their original language and an authorized English translation must be sent. All translations should be complete and literal renditions of the original records. Institutions using the Pass/No Pass grading system should provide a written course evaluation for each class.

Please refer here for degree transcript requirements from non-English speaking countries. If you have questions regarding the acceptability of your degree, please feel free to contact the Graduate Programs Office for clarification.

DEGREE CERTIFICATE

If transcripts or mark sheets do not indicate the degree and conferral date, applicants must also submit an official degree certificate with certified English translation. Both versions must be marked by a stamp in a different colored ink or raised seal by the university.
