

Pauline Thaler specializes in job search documents, undergraduate job searches, and accounting recruitment.

She provides career advising services to Lundquist students on branding documents, interviewing, networking, and job search strategies through one-on-one meetings, small group work sessions, and club workshops. If you need help:

- identifying your unique value proposition
- exploring career options
- building experience
- developing accounting careers
- practicing interview skills
- navigating career options as an international student
- translating military experience for a business audience
- conducting a career search with a disability

Please make an appointment with Pauline Thaler on Handshake. She looks forward to working with you!